

Make E-commerce products list easier to work with

Some of us have hundreds/thousands of products in various catalogues and it is a pain to update only certain products. Some suggestions to make updating easier:

- Introduce a filter by catalogue in the product listing, enabling the user to view and update all the products in a specific catalogue in one listing.
- Give the user the choice to sort alphabetically or by item code in the product listing
- Make certain attributes editable in the listing itself instead of having to select the product and tab to the correct place and save e.g. enabled indicator, prices. This will help a lot with managing product availability and price fluctuations.
- Let user specify a specific catalogue or item code range for product list downloads (to edit and upload again) - it is easier to download and update only the 100 products you need to update than download 3000 products, delete 2900 from the file and then update the 100 you were actually trying to update without messing up the file.
