

Create Web Forms via API

I would love the ability to be able to create and update web forms from the api.

Why have customers re-create the same forms over and over? With this would could create the forms and have them styled for bootstrap or foundation auto-magically.